Song Sampler

All of the songs on this sampler album are contained on other albums.

It is not a compilation in the normal themed sense of a Greatest Hits, or Rock Songs, or Country, or Classical, or a particular artists, etc.

It was created at the suggestion of an event customer that I put together a promotional album that showed the range of the songs I've created. It's really a random sampling, although I have somewhat grouped the different genres together.

I'm a one man band and recording studio. All of the songs were created one track at a time with my piano, organ, synthesizer, drum pad, four networked computers, and audio gear, then mixed down into the final song.

It starts with some decent rock and roll, then goes to a few slower ballads, followed by some country selections, then ends with a disco piece, a pretty classical selection (that kind of explodes at the end,) and finally a couple of full orchestra big band songs.

Let me know what you think,

Reeves
